West Bengal Commission for Protection of Child Rights (WBCPCR) presented certificates to the teachers of Naba Asha Project under the ambit of Hope Kolkata Foundation for facilitating the Community Radio Project -'Sahajpath'. The project initiated with the concept of "Bridging learning gap through Community Radio for Street Children" in collaboration with RadioJU, the Community Radio of Jadavpur University. The Right to Education Act clearly states the provision of free and compulsory education for children between ages six to fourteen. Community Radio became important for the children losing access to their education in the pandemic situation due to their non-accessibility to online classes as a result of not having a Smartphone. Moreover, it created awareness especially with regard to health & hygiene & supporting them in constructive engagement. After completion of year of successful broadcasting of the programme, WBCPCR awarded certificates to the teachers from Naba Asha Project. The handover of the certificates were done in our office by Mr. Sachidananda Das Secretary, Mr Joy Kar, Honorary President, Hope Kolkata Foundation.

We are grateful to the people of Ireland for this humanitarian effort of transfer 50 tonnes of PPE to The Hope Foundation to use, distribute and protect so many in the wider community of Kolkata.

Our deepest gratitude to His Excellency Sandeep Kumar, Indian Ambassador to Ireland for supporting this initiative.

This could not have been possible by the invaluable voluntary support of so many more from Ireland, India and Air Qatar.

Hope Hospital organized a free eye check up camp at the Indo-Bangladesh border with due permission from local authorities. Around 150 people were benefitted through this camp.

We appreciate all our staff for their round the year hard work, specially during this difficult times.
